

“Now is the Time, These are the Days”

A. T. Jones

IT is written “in the days of the sounding of the seventh angel, when he is about to sound, the mystery of God would be finished” (Rev. 10:7).

The mystery of God “is Christ in you, the hope of glory” (Col. 1:26, 27).

The finishing of the mystery of God then, is the finishing of the work of “Christ in you.”

The finishing of the work of Christ in you is the bringing of you to perfection in Christ Jesus.

And the bringing of you to perfection in Christ Jesus is by the power of the Holy Spirit, “according to the working whereby He is able to subdue all things unto Himself.”

For the Holy Spirit is given, imparting His precious gifts, expressly “for the perfecting of the saints, . . . till we all come to the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to a perfect man, to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ” (Eph. 4:12, 13).

This is promised for “the days of the sounding of the seventh angel, when he is about to sound.”

The seventh angel began to sound in 1844, and has been sounding ever since, and still continues to sound, and will yet continue to sound for a long time even until all woe shall have passed from the earth.

But it is not at the end of his sounding; it is not late in the years of his sounding, —no, it is in the years when he shall begin to sound, —that the mystery of God, the work of Christ in you, will be finished.

And as he has now been sounding fifty-four years¹ with the mystery of God, the work of Christ in you, not yet finished, this shows that this work has been delayed. But on the Lord’s part there is never any delay: now is always the time with Him. This delay is altogether on the part of his people. The Lord’s people have hesitated, and delayed to surrender themselves fully to be worked by the Holy Spirit into the complete image of the Lord Jesus. Many have delayed even to begin the mystery of God, the work of Christ in them, much less finish it.

This will never do. This must not be so any more. Now is the time. These are the days. The seventh angel is sounding. The nations are angry. The wrath of God is about to fall. It is the time of the dead and the living, when they shall be judged; and when He shall give reward to the saints, and to the prophets, and to them that fear His name, both small and great. It is the time when the kingdoms of this world are to become the kingdoms of our God and of His Christ; and when He shall destroy them that corrupt the earth. (Rev. 11:15-18). O, it is the time when the mystery of God should be, yea, and will be, finished!

And the finishing of this mystery is the perfecting of the believers, even unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ.

The mystery of godliness is "God was manifested in the flesh" (1 Tim. 3:16). And the finishing of this mystery signifies not only the finishing of the work of God in the believer, so that the believer reflects only Christ, —all of God and none of self, —but it signifies also that this manifestation of God in the flesh will be finished, and that He will be manifest only in the Spirit: and this signifies the changing of the believers from flesh to spirit; and this signifies translation. Thank the Lord!

And now is the time. We are in the days when the mystery of God will be finished, which means that we are in the days when God will prepare His people for translation, by bringing us to perfection according to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ. Bless the Lord!

What a precious promise, what a blessed prospect, that is, —that you and I shall be perfect! —Perfect according to God's own standard, —perfect, as Christ was perfect. Yes, and perfect, as He is perfect. For "we know that when He is revealed, we shall be like Him; for we shall see Him as He is" (1 John 3:2).

"The Lord will perfect that which concerns me" (Ps. 138:8). Bless His name! It is He alone who must make any one perfect. And He will "make you perfect in every good work to do His will, working in you that which is well pleasing in His sight," "through the blood of the everlasting covenant," "through Jesus Christ; to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen."

Who then will hesitate and delay any longer to yield up all to God, that He may make us perfect?

Do not think for a moment that it will take Him a long time, as it has taken you, and in vain. He does this work by creation, not by evolution, as you have supposed. He does it for you cannot do it. He does it by His word, not by your vain efforts. Read this:

While so many of our people have been hovering about the mystery of faith and godliness, they could have solved the matter by proclaiming, "I know that Christ is my portion forever. His mercy, His gentleness, has made me great" (Testimony, Sept. 20, 1898).

Why not, then, solve this mystery of faith and godliness just now, when it is so easily and so quickly solved? Why not let God finish His mystery in you, according to His own purpose in Christ Jesus? Just now receive His Holy Spirit in all His fullness and gracious working, that He may perfect you unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ?

"Ask, and it shall be given you." "Receive the Holy Spirit." "Be filled with" "the Holy Spirit of God," by whose working alone the mystery of God can be finished in you, and "whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption."
